

MARCH 2016

Thank you for your interest in the fourth edition of Volunteer in Culture held on Saturday, March 12th at the Bloor Hot Docs Cinema! This recap is meant to serve as a refresher for the 200 people who attended and a jumping off point for those who weren't able to swing by.

We hope all of you are able to make new volunteer connections based on the information below about each organization.

Hot Docs

The volunteer application for the 2016 festival is open, with opportunities in front of house, marketing, and more. Year-round opportunities are also available post-festival. Orientation Sessions for new volunteers begin on March 26th and run until April 9th, apply today!

We have also recently developed a set of volunteer management resources that can be found here, as well as a new cross-organizational initiative called VAACT.

Figment Toronto

They're dedicated to participatory art and span several cities, and the Toronto chapter of Figment graced the stage to inform us that there are opportunities for volunteers AND artists (sometimes at the same time)!

List of Presenters

1. Hot Docs
2. Figment Toronto
3. Pride Toronto
4. FrancoQueer
5. Scarborough Arts Council
6. Timeraiser
7. Unity Charity
8. Water Docs
9. Additional tables – Aga Khan Museum, Inside Out, Volunteer Toronto

Pride Toronto

While well-known to many, this is the first year that Pride Toronto will be a month long, and they're super excited about it. They will soon begin vetting applications for the main festival weekend (July 1 – 3), and you can find more information about that as well as their year-round opportunities here.

FrancoQueer

Created to serve the francophone community in many different ways, FrancoQueer runs alongside Pride and are currently looking for help with their annual Franco-Fierté. They also do great work with both the immigrant and AIDS communities, striving to help all those in need.

Scarborough Arts Council

These folks get up to a whole lot by coordinating exhibitions, workshops, youth programs, and more, and they offer volunteers the opportunity to get involved every step of the way. Find out how to get involved on their website, then check out their most recent crowning achievement – the Yearbook exhibition in the Bluffs Gallery.

Timeraiser

Serial volunteers, you may find your calling here! Timeraiser requests that attendees pledge volunteer hours with non-profit organizations in order to bid on art by Canadian artists. They support the community, and you could support them!

Unity Charity

“We reach out to today’s youth - with hip hop.” These were the opening words of Founder & Executive Director Mike Prosserman, after showing a wonderfully shot video displaying just that. Learn about their year-round and festival opportunities today!

Water Docs

Determined to highlight everything water-related, it’s a bit late to get involved as a general volunteer with the festival but they’re still actively looking for some help with their social media. Send them an email at volunteer.ecologos@gmail.com to learn more.

Additional Tables

You may have noticed there were a few tables for organizations who didn’t present on stage, but who we still wanted you to get to know in one way or another. Here are some links to more information about them:

- Aga Khan Museum
- Inside Out
- Volunteer Toronto
